Kim Jong Il’s Political Philosophy

One January day in 1985 Kim Jong Il expressed his will to accomplish the revolutionary cause of Juche by employing the single-hearted unity continuously as the great foundation of the revolution.

He said: Our unity is single-hearted unity. The Party holds high the banner of single-hearted unity. Single-hearted unity is my philosophy of revolution. It is the solid foundation of our revolution. Today our people live and advance in the spirit of single-hearted unity and emerge victorious from the confrontation with the world’s reactionaries on the strength of that unity, stepping up the grand march toward the completion of the revolutionary cause of Juche. Our single-hearted unity is strong enough to turn adversity into prosperity and an unfavourable wind into a favourable one, and break through any obstacles and trials. No force in the world can upset the might of our single-hearted unity.

Great Foundation of Revolution

One February day in 2009 Kim Jong Il said that officials must become the roots that support the country and the revolution, like the roots of a tree.

He went on to say: For a tree to grow healthy, it must have strong roots. Only when its roots are strong can the tree grow into a giant one. A giant tree is imposing with its thick branches and leaves, because its roots continually provide nutritious elements from underground to the trunk. The giant tree is visible, but its roots are not. There are many people that admire the tree for its size, but few of them think of the roots supporting it. They work underground without rest, whether they are appreciated or not.

He said: In view of our revolution whose mainstay is the single-hearted unity of the leader, the Party and the masses, revolutionaries should be determined to become the roots, that if roots struck deep underground such nutritious elements properly then the tree will grow vigorously, that likewise, if revolutionaries are prepared firmly and united single-heartedly, the revolution will win one victory after another and the country will become ever more prosperous.

Kim Jong Il added: It is military strength. The source of my strength is twofold. First, there is single-hearted unity and, second, there is military might. Only with a strong military force can one deal with relations with foreign countries from the independent standpoint. We still need this strong force even in the case of having close ties with other countries.

Comradeship Is Just Unity

One day in 2004 Kim Jong Il said to some officials: When I look back on the past road of revolution, there are many things that evoke memories in me; among them, what I look back on with the deepest emotion are the memories of the revolutionary comrades who have followed the Party invariably through trials and difficulties.

He went on to say: Love between comrades is unity, and there is no power stronger than that of the unity of revolutionary comrades. Love and trust between comrades, unity based on revolutionary comradeship, does not vacillate whatever the adversity, and demonstrates power that no force can equal. Without revolutionary comradeship, we could conceive of neither the existence and development of our Party, nor our single-hearted unity, nor the victorious advance of our revolution. Revolutionary comradeship is the basis of single-hearted unity, the moral strength of our Party and the driving force of our revolution.

One February day in 2009 Kim Jong Il said that officials must become the roots that support the country and the revolution, like the roots of a tree.

THE HISTORY OF THE SOCIALIST KOREA had periods called Golden Age of Pyongyang. The time of the 1970s and the 1980s turned out to be the heyday of creation and construction thanks to the wise leadership of Chairman Kim Jong Il.

Turning the capital city of Pyongyang into a people’s city was a dream cherished by Kim Jong Il from his childhood.

When Korea was liberated from the Japanese imperialists’ military occupation in August 1945, there took place the Pothong River improvement project in Pyongyang the next year. One day in early summer that year Kim Jong Il went to the construction site with his mother. There he said that he would replace the traditional “Eight Scenic Wonders of Pyongyang” with “Eighty Scenic Wonders of Pyongyang” by building many houses for workers and peasants.

The latter half of the 1950s turned out to be a heyday in the history of construction of the nation. Kim Jong Il, too, took part in the project to rehabilitate Pyongyang which had been reduced to ashes during the three years of war.

One day in May 1958 he went up Moran Hill with some of his classmates after having lunch in the construction site. The hill offered a bird’s eye view of Pyongyang under reconstruction. Kim Jong Il said: One day immediately after the war I heard the news that Premier Kim Il Sung convened a Cabinet plenary meeting and made sure a Cabinet decision was adopted for rehabilitation of the city. That evening I saw a miniature of the construction plan of downtown Pyongyang and an article about it in a newspaper. I studied and read them time and again that night. And I decided to build the city into the revolutionary capital replete with the Korean people’s revolutionary spirit and into the one of the people which is beautiful and good to live in.

On the occasion he also said that the appearance of the capital was just that of the country, and that the project to rehabilitate and construct Pyongyang into the city of revolution and the people was an important task to demonstrate the authority and dignity of the country. And he said that, true to the intention of the Premier, high-rise apartment blocks had to be built in downtown Pyongyang, canals be built on the Taedong and Pothong Rivers with promenades lined with trees so that people could enjoy their recreational and leisure time to the full, and parks and pleasure grounds be built on Moran, Changgwang and Haebang Hills and...
Mt Taesong. It was really an authentic image of future Pyongyang.

With the beginning of the 1970s Chairman Kim Jong Il’s idea of the construction of Pyongyang started to develop into reality. The first project was Ragwon Street. The Chairman supervised the construction to form a street by building apartment houses for 3,000 households in Ragwon-dong, Pothonggang District. He understood the state of construction almost every day and often went to the site, solving knotty problems. As a result, the construction of the street finished in a matter of several months by the early October of 1975.

After the completion of Ragwon Street Kim Jong Il proposed another large project of removing an old loop street in the downtown and building a new street there.

Examining a plan of a new loop street in late October 1979 the Chairman said: The formation of the street should be done by a completely new method. It is necessary to develop a Korean-style method of street formation and Korean-type shapes of structures. We should make the new apartments tall and slender, while setting them sparsely so that they could stand high in green foliage with their own features.

When the construction began, the Chairman inspected the construction site several times, giving meticulous guidance. And when the new loop street (the first stage) was completed in ten months after the groundbreaking, he renamed it Changgwang Street after the nearby Changgwang Hill.

Chairman Kim Jong Il paid close attention to the construction of monumental edifices as well. The first edifice in the Golden Age of Pyongyang was the Mansudae Art Theatre. Examining in detail the elevation of the theatre and the designs of the stage, auditorium, lounge, dressing rooms and other facilities, he indicated the orientation and ways regarding how to perfect the designs. In this way a palace of art went up in a national style and with socialist contents.

Over the following 15 years many streets and monumental structures were built, including Pipha, Taehak, Munsu, An Sang Thaek, Chongchun and Kwangbok Streets, the Tower of the Juche Idea, the Arch of Triumph, the Pyongyang Koryo Hotel, the Changgwang Health Complex, the Ice Rink, the Chongnyu Restaurant, the Grand People’s Study House, the May Day Stadium and the East Pyongyang Grand Theatre.

In the 2000s another Golden Age of Pyongyang was unfolded with the construction of Mansudae Street, sprucing up the capital. Examining a miniature of apartment houses of Mansudae Street in December 2007, the Chairman gave detailed instructions to form the street in a unique way and build the best possible apartments. Thanks to his energetic guidance the construction of the street was finished in a little over a year, and it was followed by the construction of Chongjon Street. Meanwhile, the construction of apartments was propelled in different places of the city.

In his immortal classic work On Architecture published on May 21, 1991 the Chairman clarified that in the socialist society, architectural creation is the concern of the masses themselves, that architecture is created and developed rapidly drawing on their limitless strength and that architecture is a mixed art.

For its eternal vitality the work remains a valuable guideline in opening up the heyday of construction. Kim Song Il

Congress of Struggle and Advance

The Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea took place in Pyongyang, the capital city of the Democratic People’s Republic of Korea, on January 5-12.

The respected Comrade Kim Jong Un mounted the platform of the congress together with members of the Political Bureau of the Party Central Committee.

The congress was attended by the members of the leadership body of the Seventh Party Central Committee and the delegates elected by the Party organizations at all levels.

Invited to the platform were the chairman of the Central Committee of the Korean Social Democratic Party, the chairman of the Central Committee of the Chondoist Chongu Party, and the chief of the Pyongyang Mission of the Anti-Imperialist National Democratic Front.

Solemnly pledging, on behalf of all the participants in the congress, that the congress would remain thoroughly faithful to the revolutionary ideas and cause of the great Comrades Kim Il Sung and Kim Jong Il, the founder and builder of the WPK, Kim Jong Un declared the Eighth Congress of the WPK open.

The congress approved and seriously discussed and decided the following agenda items:

First, review of the work of the WPK Central Committee; secondly, review of the work of the WPK Central Auditing Commission; thirdly, amendments to the Rules of the WPK; and fourthly, election of the central leadership body of the WPK.

The congress unanimously adopted the resolution on electing Kim Jong Un as general secretary of the WPK in reflection of the unanimous will and wish of all the delegates, all the Party members, other people across the country and service personnel of the Korean People’s Army.

On the basis of scientific analysis of the trend of the developing revolution and the demands of the prevailing subjective and objective situations, the congress discussed and decided new lines of struggle and strategic and tactical policies for strengthening and developing the Party and making a radical leap forward in socialist construction.

The congress adopted with the unanimous approval of all its participants the resolution “On thoroughly implementing the tasks set forth in the report on the work of the Seventh WPK Central Committee.”

Fully convinced that, thanks to the great fighting efficiency, power of unity, extraordinary patriotic enthusiasm and indomitable perseverance of the organizations and members of the entire Party, all other people and service personnel, the strategy and policies put forward by the congress would successfully be carried out and epoch-making progress would be made in the building of Korean-style socialism, Kim Jong Un declared the Eighth Congress of the WPK closed.

The Eighth Congress of the WPK, held at a time of crucial importance in the development of the revolution, was an expression of the Party’s definite self-confidence in its capability for leading the socialist cause to another stage of victory, and it is also a noteworthy political event of great significance in the course of the struggle of the glorious Party.

The Respected Comrade Kim Jong Un made an opening speech at the Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea. The opening speech is as follows:

Dear delegates,

The Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea, for which millions of our Party members have sincerely made preparations with their hearts burning with patriotism and loyalty and to which they have so looked forward, has been convened at an important and crucial time in the development of our revolution.

First, in reflection of the boundless loyalty of you, dear delegates; and all other Party members, people and service personnel across the country, I pay the noblest respect and greatest glory to the great Comrades Kim Il Sung and Kim Jong Il, the founder and builder of the Workers’ Party of Korea and the eternal leaders of our Party, state and people.

Dear delegates,

Five years have passed since our Party and all our people started a new advance to attain the immediate goals and tasks the Seventh Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea set forth for socialist construction.

In this period the unprecedented, worst-ever trials put great obstacles on the road of advance of our revolution, but our Party achieved great successes through tenacious and accurate practical activities aimed at implementing its fighting programme. During the period under review our internal force further expanded and strengthened, and the external prestige of the country was raised remarkably. This is a clear signal that an era of a new upsurge and gigantic transformation has arrived for socialist construction.

The Sixth Plenary Meeting of the Seventh Party Central Committee held in August last year made an in-depth analysis and judgment of the new trend of our developing revolution and the demands of the prevailing objective and subjective situations, and decided to convene the current congress of the WPK.

The conviction of the congress in the present-day arduous circumstances is a noteworthy political event of great significance in view of the influence it would exert on the change and development of the internal and external situations and of the future struggle of our Party, a socialist ruling party.

When the historic decision on holding this congress was made public, all the people across the country, engulfed by a great emotion, warmly supported it, and it dealt a telling blow to the reactionary forces of all hues, who were hostile to our cause and attempted to check its advance.

It was because the conviction of the highest-level meeting of the WPK was an expression of its definite self-confidence in its capability for leading the revolution to another stage of victory, and constituted demonstration of its ardent will and solemn pledge to live up to the people’s great trust and expectations by shouldering the future of the state and fully discharging its responsibilities and duties.

The Central Committee of our Party made it clear at home and abroad that it would make this congress a congress for work, struggle and progress. This was a promise to the Party members and other people that it would strictly review its work in the period under review, explicitly decide once again the correct orientation and tasks of struggle for achieving fresh victories in building our style of socialism and take substantial measures to this end. Never small are the successes our Party achieved in the revolutionary struggle and construction work over the last five years of arduous, yet glorious struggle.

By achieving miraculous victories and events noteworthy in the 5 000-year history of our nation after its Seventh Congress, the WPK provided a sure guarantee for reliably defending the destiny of the country and the people generation after generation and simultaneously won some meaningful and precious successes and foundations on which to promote economic construction and improve the people’s standard of living. However, though the period of implementing the Five-Year Strategy for the National Economic Development ended last year, almost all sectors fell a long way short of the set objectives.

Still existing are the various external and internal challenges that hamper and hinder our efforts and advance for fresh and continuous victories in socialist construction. The key to breaking through the existing manifold difficulties with utmost certainty and speed lies in consolidating our own strength, our internal force, in all respects.

Proceeding from the principle of finding the causes of mistakes not in the objective conditions, but in the subjective conditions, and resolving all problems by enhancing the role of our motive force, the current congress is going to make a comprehensive and profound analysis and judgement of the experiences, lessons and mistakes we have made during the period under review and, on this basis, define the scientific goals and tasks of struggle, which we can and must accomplish without fail.

The successes we have already achieved are priceless for us, and so are the bitter lessons that have been accumulated. All these are things that cannot be bartered even for gold, and constitute valuable assets for achieving fresh victories in the future.

We should further promote and expand the victories and successes we have gained at the cost of sweat and blood, and prevent the painful lessons from being repeated.

In particular, we should be bold enough to admit the mistakes which, if left unaddressed, will grow into bigger obstacles and stumbling blocks, and take resolute measures against their repetition. This congress has been convened on the basis of this pluck and commitment.

If the Eighth Party Congress, a congress for struggle, carries out its work in a substantial manner and puts forth a correct line and strategic and tactical policies, the Korean revolution will greet an era of a new leap forward and upsurge.

Also, the WPK’s struggle for achieving national prosperity and people’s happiness will switch over to a new stage with the congress as a watershed.

Dear delegates,

To make this congress a substantial congress for work, struggle and progress, the WPK Central Committee focused on the following issues over the past four months.

First, it conducted the work of making a comprehensive, three-dimensional and detailed analysis and review of how the decisions of the Seventh Party Congress were implemented and drawing experiences and lessons for future progress and development.

To this end, the Party Central Committee formed a non-permanent central inspection commission and sent it to lower units on a mission to learn about the actual situations there and carefully gathered the opinions of workers, farmers and intellectuals who are Party members and involved in field labour.

The non-permanent central inspection commission conducted the work in the way of dispatching its teams to provinces and, after grasping the actual situations there, dispatching them to ministries and central institutions by direction and sector to make brisk, comprehensive and detailed inspections.

The teams thoroughly examined all aspects of the actual situation including what was wrong, what was neglected among what could be carried out and what was implemented in a profitable way or formalistic way in executing the decisions of the Seventh Party Congress, and if there were shortcomings, what were their causes and what were the defects in Party guidance.

During the days when the Party congress was prepared, departments of the Party Central Committee and other Party organizations across the country submitted to the Political Bureau of the Party Central Committee and the preparatory committee for the congress reports of their work over the last five years and innovative and detailed opinions on the goals and plans of struggle in the future.

In the course of this, we confirmed once again the priceless truth that the masses are excellent teachers, and were convinced that it was right indeed that we had decided to take heed of the opinions of Party organizations and its members for the preparation of the congress.

What we did is of great significance in making this congress a revolutionary and militant one, both in name and body, in which the general will of all the Party members will be embodied, and the decisions to be adopted by it become an organizational will of the entire Party.

As part of the preparations for the Party congress, we analysed and reviewed the finances of the Party over the last four years and studied the measures for improving them.

And we made a profound study aimed at revising the parts in Party Rules, which were a mechanistic repetition of the past and outdated or that of others and did not suit the present reality; in conformity with the requirements of the developing revolution and the principles of building a Juche-oriented party.

We also comprehensively appraised the work of the members of the leadership body of the Seventh Party Central Committee to determine how much contribution they made to strengthening and developing the Party and the revolution.

In the lead-up to this Party congress, the basic Party organizations, provincial, city and county Party committees and the Party committees performing the same functions as the latter reviewed the work of their leadership bodies in an effective way and held successful meetings for electing delegates to the Party congress with the main emphasis on selecting the Party members who could play core roles in implementing the decisions of the Party congress in the future.

For the Eighth Party Congress, which would illuminate the road ahead of a new struggle for the Korean revolution, all the Party members and all other people across the country achieved brilliant successes by turning out in the 80-day campaign of loyalty after glorifying the 75th anniversary of the Party founding as a great auspicious event. We encountered the road to the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Party with burning patriotic devotion and great victory, who firmly defended the Eighth Congress of the Party with burning patriotic devotion and great victory by demonstrating on a higher level the might of their firm unity around the Party in the flames of arduous struggle for overcoming manifold difficulties.

And as I stand at this glorious podium, I would like to extend warm greetings to the organizations of our overseas compatriots, including the General Association of the Korean Residents in Japan, and all other overseas compatriots.

On behalf of the Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea, I extend a noble tribute to all the patriotic martyrs, recollecting with deep reverence the revolutionary comrades who devoted their precious lives to the development of the Party, the prosperity of the country, the happiness of the people and the future of posterity, the unforgettable comrades-in-arms who failed to be present here. Dear delegates,

We stood at this significant venue at a quite important and crucial moment with a very honourable and sacred mission.

We stand at a great turning point in leading the revolutionary cause of Juche pioneered in Mt Paektu to another fresh victory and at a decisive moment of firmly linking the 75 years of ruling history of the glorious Workers’ Party of Korea to its 80 years; we are here representing the destiny, future, resourcefulness and wisdom of millions of members of the Workers’ Party of Korea and tens of millions of the Korean people.

We are entrusted with an important mission to make our country more powerful and wealthy and indicate to our people a shortcut to happiness in this world full of severe challenges and instability.

At this moment, the interest, expectations and hope of all the Party members and other people across the country are very great and high for this congress which will review the revolutionary work of the last five years and decide the line of struggle and strategic and tactical policies for opening up a new road.

We should display the highest sense of responsibility and passion in the work of the congress in order to live up to the great trust and expectations of the people who have always shared their destiny with the Party, absolutely trusted and supported the Party and defended the Eighth Congress with unshaking, devoted efforts.

Attending this congress are 250 members of the leadership body of the Seventh Party Central Committee and 4,750 delegates elected by organizations at all levels throughout the Party.

Among them, 1,595 delegates of Party and political workers, 801 delegates of state administrative and economic officials, 408 delegates of service personnel, 44 delegates of officials of the working people’s organizations, 353 delegates of officials in the sectors of science, education, public health, art, literature and the mass media and 655 delegates of hard-core Party members involved in field labour.

Of them, women delegates number 501, accounting for ten per cent.

Present at the congress are 2,000 observers.

Solemnly pledging, on behalf of all the participants in this congress, which constitutes the eighth one in the sacred history of the Workers’ Party of Korea, that the current congress will remain thoroughly faithful to the revolutionary ideas and cause of the great Comrades Kim Il Sung and Kim Jong Il.

Fully convinced that this congress will serve as a stepping stone and a historic milestone in making a radical leap forward in the struggle for strengthening and developing our Party, accomplishing the socialist cause, building up the national strength and improving the people’s living standards, and hoping that all the delegates will participate in the congress with sincere, responsible and proactive attitude, I declare the Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea open.
On Comrade Kim Jong Un’s Report to the Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea

A REPORT WAS MADE ON THE WORK OF the Seventh Central Committee of the Workers’ Party of Korea (WPK) from January 5 to 7, Juche 110 (2021) at the Eighth Congress of the Party, an important political event in the development of our Party and revolution.

The respected Comrade Kim Jong Un made the report on the work of the Central Committee of the Party.

In his nine-hour report he comprehensively and deeply analyzed and reviewed the work of the Seventh Central Committee of the Party, laid down a fresh struggle line and strategic and tactical policies for making a radical advance in socialist construction and set forth important tasks for advancing the cause of national reunification and external relations and developing Party work.

The report on the work of the Central Committee of the Party is a great practical programme as it admits the subjective and objective factors checking the progress of the state and all the people to their implementation and thus made great achievements.

The gist of the report which clearly indicates the path of the Korean revolution at the present stage is that we must boldly overcome the existing threats and challenges, make a new leap forward in the construction of our own-style socialism and make a clear advance by strengthening our own power, our own driving force, in every way.

The report which comprehensively deals with our Party’s outstanding ideology and theory serves as a militant banner to be adhered to in the course of the struggle of a new stage for the prosperity and development of our state and happiness of the people, and a revolutionary document which firmly links today and tomorrow with the historic roots of the cause of Juche.

It is the greatest honour for our Party and people and great encouragement for them that they have received the highly important guidelines for making an overall development of our own-style socialism on the road of indomitably and vigorously carrying on the arduous struggle with a firm belief in the justness of their cause and its victory.

The report on the work of the Seventh Central Committee of the WPK consists of the following parts:

1. Achievements Made during the Period under Review
2. For an Epoch-making Advance in Socialist Construction
3. For the Independent Reunification of the Country and Development of External Relations
4. For the Development of Party Work

Kim Jong Un in the preface of his report outlined the guidance provided by the Central Committee of the Party during the period under review for fulfilling its heavy yet honourable mission given by the Seventh Congress of the WPK.

The Central Committee of the Party took timely measures for implementing the decisions made at the Seventh Congress of the Party by regularly holding major Party meetings including the plenary meetings, and positively aroused the entire Party, the whole state and all the people to their implementation and thus made great achievements.

The report noted that serious mistakes were revealed in the work of several fields including economic work under the grave internal and external situations, but those were deviations made in the stage of new development and in the course of the advance of the socialist cause and were problems which can surely be solved by our wisdom and efforts.

1. Achievements Made during the Period under Review

Kim Jong Un in the first part of his report reviewed with pride the proud achievements made by our Party and people during the period under review.

The WPK organized and waged indomitable offensive struggle for turning every obstacle into great victory for the last five years since the Seventh Congress of the Party, and the victory won in this course can be characterized by that it opened up an era of fresh development, an era of our state-first principle.

As mentioned in the report, the era of our state-first principle is a new era of self-respect and prosperity, which was born as a result that the WPK made all possible efforts for the people and determinedly built up its own force, boldly facing all kinds of challenges of history, as a result of its do-or-die struggle for exalting the dignity and position of the state.

The report firstly reviewed the successes achieved in embodying the politics based on the people-first principle during the period under review.

The biggest success achieved in the last five years of struggle for implementing the decisions made at the Seventh Party Congress is that the politico-ideological strength, the first motive force of our revolution, was radically augmented.

During the period under review the Party Central Committee achieved remarkable successes in consolidating the single-minded unity of the Party and the people as firm as a rock and building up the driving force of the socialist cause and enhancing its role by putting forward the politics based on the people-first principle as a fundamental issue and a main political mode decisive of the survival or ruin of the state.

Kim Jong Un makes the report on the work of the Seventh Central Committee of the WPK in January 2021.

ing our ideal powerful socialist state.

Korea was divided by the US, the world’s first user of atomic and war chief, and the DPRK has been in direct confrontation with its aggressive forces for decades, and the peculiarities of the Korean revolution and the geopolitical features of our state demand that we press ahead uninterruptedly rean revolution and the geopolitical features of our state as a nuclear weapons state and enabled our nuclear forces for the welfare of our people, the destiny of our revolution and the existence and independent development of our state.

The Party Central Committee headed by the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un drew up a forced breakthrough operation for accomplishing the great cause of building the nuclear forces, inspired the entire Party and all the people to the implementation of the line of simultaneously promoting the two fronts, and organized and launched an intense ideological campaign for preparing the national defence scientists and nuclear scientists as genuine revolutionaries, patriots and death-defying corps.

The energetic and outstanding guidance and activities conducted by the Party Central Committee to safeguard the destiny of the country and the nation wrote a history of miracle—the birth of a strategic weapon of the WPK style.

The report detailed the historic course that led a great revolutionary turn for possessing the completely new nuclear capabilities aimed at attaining the goal of modernization of the nuclear forces.

Under the direct guidance of the Party Central Committee, intermediate-range and intercontinental ballistic rockets of Haesongho series and submarine-launched and ground-launched ballistic rockets of Pukkuksong series were manufactured in our own style to meet their unique operational missions. This gave a clearer description of the status of our state as a nuclear weapons state and enabled it to obtain a perfect nuclear shield and bolster its powerful and reliable strategic deterrent for coping with any threat.

During the period under review the already accumulated nuclear technology developed to such a high degree as to make the nuclear weapons miniaturized, light, standardized and tactical and to complete the development of a super-large hydrogen bomb. By succeeding in the test-fire of intercontinental ballistic rocket Haesongho-15 on November 29, 2017, the new-type tactical rockets and intermediate-range cruise missiles whose conventional warheads are the most powerful in the world. This enabled us to gain a reliable edge in military technology.

Our national defence scientists and workers in the munitions industry properly set the orientation of developing the leading task of our own style following the world’s development trends and have begun to enter a new track of development while upgrading production processes. They also achieved such successes as developing world-class anti-aircraft rocket complex, self-propelled gun howitzer and anti-aircraft weapons.

The report also noted that during the period under review the sector of national defence science was conducting at the final stage the research into perfecting the technology of the multiple independently targetable reentry vehicles, finished research into developing warheads of different combat missions including the hypersonic gliding flight warheads for new-type ballistic rockets and was making preparations for their test manufacture.

The report made public with pride that the standard of the goal in the modernization of the armament of medium-sized submarine was set correctly and it was remodelled experimentally to open up a bright prospect for remarkably enhancing the existing subsurface operational capabilities of our navy, that the designing of new nuclear submarine was finished and was in the stage of final examination and the designing of various electronic weapons, unmanned striking equipment, means of reconnaissance and detection and military reconnaissance satellite was completed, and that other achievements were made in national defence research of gigantic significance in developing the People’s Army into a powerful one with the strongest military muscle in the world.

The report evaluated that the bold leap forward brought about in the national defence science and munitions industry made sure that the country ranked high in the world in terms of defence capabilities and, at the same time, it was of great significance in realizing the strategic plan of the Party Central Committee for developing the overall Korean revolution.

The report said that a great advance was made in the process of turning People’s Army into an elite force during the period under review.

Under the leadership of the Party, the People’s Army performed miraculous feats on two fronts—national defence and socialist construction—to faithfully accomplish its revolutionary duty. It also reliably defended the land, the air and the seas of the country and put the provocative threats by the enemy under definite control by means of impregnable guard and full combat posture in the last five years fraught with the most acute and grave trials, thus ensuring peaceful environment for our socialist construction.

During the period under review the Party Central Committee successfully accomplished the great cause of building the country’s nuclear forces and brought about a great change in strengthening the state defence capabilities, thereby upraising the country to the position of a world nuclear power and military power in both name and reality and putting an end once and for all to the era in which big powers attempted to make bargain at their own will with the interests of our state and nation.

The most significant and proud victory achieved by the Seventh Central Committee headed by Kim Jong Un in implementing the decisions of the Party Congress is that it made sure that our people and posterity could create prosperity and happiness to the full in a dignified strong country free from the holocaust of war for ever.

In the report Kim Jong Un reviewed that the DPRK’s external position was radically raised during the period under review.

After winning the great victory in carrying out the line of simultaneously pushing forward economic construction and building of our nuclear forces, the Party Central Committee conducted energetic external activities, placing the state’s dignity and prestige on a high level.

During the period under review, the external environment for the DPRK was the harshest in its history since its founding, due to the desperate offensive by the US and its followers characterized by frantic manoeuvres to pressurize and blockade the country.

In this severest situation, the Party Central Committee resolutely rejected any attempt to hurt the supreme interests and dignity of the country and never made even the slightest concession in its revolutionary principle while adhering more firmly to the principle of independence, which brought the world to the realization that the sovereignty of the DPRK can never be infringed upon and improved relations with it is absolutely impossible without the respect for its sovereignty.

By making a bold switchover in its lines and pursuing offensive strategy, it created a trend to
At the one-on-one talks of the top leaders of the DPRK and the US, and subsequently the people’s living standards could not be improved remarkably, owing to the failure in the revolutionary improvement of the economic work under the protracted severe external and internal situations and in the face of unexpected challenges. It also dealt with depression in different sectors and its causes.

Analyzing the subjective and objective factors which affected the implementation of the five-year strategy for the national economic development, it pointed out the aftermath of the most barbarous sanctions and blockade by the US and other hostile forces as the first objective factor. Besides, severe natural disasters that hit the country every year and the world health crisis that broke out last year and became protracted were severe obstacles to the economic work, it analyzed.

The report said that due to such obstacles, state investment and supplies intended to bolster the major economic sectors in the five-year strategy for the national economic development could not be carried out properly.

It gave the Party Central Committee’s analysis and appraisal of the cause of non-fulfillment of the five-year strategy for the national economic development during the period under review, seriously pointing out that if one ascribes its failure to objective conditions, he can do nothing and the action and role of the driving force will be unnecessary, and it is impossible to accelerate the revolutionary struggle and construction work unless the unfavourable external factors are removed.

The Party Central Committee analyzed the current situation, in which the five-year strategy for the national economic development had not been properly set on the basis of scientific calculation and grounds, science and technology failed to actually play the role of propelling the economic work of the country and the work of readjusting and reinforcing the irrational economic work system and discipline were not properly done.

The report referred to the conclusive lesson that the economy of the country can never be boosted without breaking with the wrong ideological viewpoint, irresponsible working attitude, incompetence and obsolete working manner that have been prevalent.

Stressing the need to take steps for decisively switching the overall work of the Party and the state to be oriented to and encouraging fresh innovation, bold creation and steady advance and resolution of the task of readjusting the outdated work system, unreasonable and inefficient way of work and obstacles disturbing our advance, the report noted that only by doing so, is it possible to turn our struggle for socialist construction, including the one for attaining the future long-term goals of the national economy, into a great revolutionary undertaking aimed at bringing substantial benefits to the people.

The report clarified the strategy for the struggle in the economic field in the coming five years. It stressed that our Party’s economic strategy at the present stage is the one for readjustment and reinforcement aimed at putting our economy on a normal track so that it can run smoothly without being affected by any external influence, by restoring and readjusting the economic work and the organic relations among sectors and pushing ahead with the work for cementing its self-supporting foundations.

The general orientation of the five-year plan for the national economic development is to lay solid foundations for reenergizing the overall national economy and improving the people’s standard of living by concentrating efforts on the main links in the whole chain of economic development.

The major tasks of the five-year plan aim at focusing the investment and effort on the construction of the national economy, into a great revolutionary undertaking aimed at laying solid foundations for reenergizing the overall national economy and improving the people’s standard of living by concentrating efforts on the main links in the whole chain of economic development.

The new five-year plan mainly presumes that the Cabinet, as the economic headquarters of the country, properly enforces the Cabinet-responsibility system, Cabinet-centred system, for economic work, vigorously accelerates the work of strengthening the essential life line and integrity of the country’s economy, definitely improves its economic management, actively promotes the normalization of production, regression and local provision of raw and other materials by dint of science and technology and orients the external economic activities toward reinforcing the foundations and potentiality... of the self-supporting economy.

And the new plan reflected the demands for per-flecting the self-supporting structure of the national economy, lowering the proportion of dependence on imports and stabilizing the people’s living by taking the actual possibilities into consideration.

The main seed and theme of the plan are, as always, the self-reliance.

From the requirements of our developing revolution and from the urgent requirements of socialist construction, self-reliance during the period of the new long-term plan should develop into nationwide, planned and scientific self-reliance.

Kim Jong Un, in his report, referred in detail to the present conditions in the major economic sectors, and the issues related with their readjustment and development.

The report presented the situation of the key industrial fields which form the lifeline of the national economy and which must be propped up on a priority basis for the overall economic development and the improvement of people’s standard of living, and ways of their readjustment and development.

The report stressed that the metal industry should technologically perfect our own system of iron making, expand its capacity and radically increase iron and steel production.

It was noted that in order to attain the goal of iron and steel production mentioned in the new five-year plan, scientific and technological problems must be solved to expand production capacity by renovating the existing production lines with advanced technology and building new energy-saving iron blast furnaces in major iron works and steel plants, to invigorate the production of iron ore and to use brown coal in the northern areas for the production of pig iron.

The report also referred to the direction of the development of the core industry of the country, the chemical industry, which can be likened to the lifeline for the construction of the self-supporting economy and the improvement of people’s standard of living.

The central task of the chemical industry in the new five-year plan period is to give precedence to building up its own technical forces, step up the improvement of its structure, and drastically increase the production of chemical goods necessary for economic construction and the improvement of the people’s standard of living.

The chemical industry should make sure that the whole process of the struggle for founding a Juche-based chemical industry becomes the process of holding a firm grasp on the know-how of the up-to-date technology and push forward the work of transforming the structure of the country’s chemical industry into that of a Juche-based industry that relies on our own raw materials.

The report set it as a precondition for stepping up economic construction and improving the people’s standard of living to increase the generation of electricity, key power of the self-supporting econ-yomy.

The major task facing the electric power industry during the new five-year plan period is to readjust and reinforce its production foundations as a whole and expand them on a long-term basis while waging an increased production drive for meeting the immediate demand for electricity so as to reliably guarantee the stable development of the national economy and the material and cultured living of the people.

The report mentioned the plans for concentrating the efforts of the state on the construction of tidal power stations under long-term and medium-term strategies and launching in real earnest into the founding of mineral resources of the country, the underground natural resources of the country in a unified way, and to expand the production ca-capacity of the mines, smelters and factories in the mining industry.

The report underlined the need for the forestry sector to strengthen its own material and technological foundations and satisfactorily meet the need for timber of the national economy while keeping the balance of timber production and afforestation.

The report mentioned the plans for evolving the sectors of the key industries mentioned in the report indicates the scientific and innovative way to powerfully leading the overall economic construction by further strengthening the potential and might of the self-supporting economy, and it also provided a firm policy guarantee for promoting the sustained development of the economy whatever the conditions and environments.

The report referred to the present situation in transport and the tasks for bringing about obvious improvement in it.

The basic target of rail transport during the new five-year plan period is to positively promote the modernization of railways, improve transport in a revolutionary way and thus satisfactorily meet the need for rail transport.

The field of rail transport should push ahead in a planned way and staunchly with the work of ensuring the safety of railways, making them heavy-duty, extending the sections of standardized railways and promoting the work of building the railways.

At the same time, the projects for updating the Pyongyang Metro and renovating its stations should be pushed forward, and the level of its management and operation decisively raised.

The land and marine transport was presented with the tasks of continuing to build large cargo vessels suited to the world trend of development of ship-building technology, building an integrated management system of automotive transport and putting transport command on an IT basis so as to eaffect the strain on transport.

It is necessary to produce a larger number of means of public transport, including new-type subway trains, trolley buses, tramcars and buses, to promote people’s conveniences.

The report evaluated the remarkable development and achievements made in the construction field during the period under review, pointed out a series of deviations and raised new tasks and targets.

The basic tasks facing the construction field during the new five-year plan period are to massively carry out the capital construction including housing construction so as to provide the people with a higher civilized living conditions and radically change the appearances of the country.

The construction field should powerfully push forward the two fronts simultaneously–industrial construction for strengthening the economic foundations of the country and construction for meeting the material and cultural needs of the people.

By the end of the five-year plan period, the construction of 50 000 flats in Pyongyang, it should set the annual plans for building 10 000 flats every year, starting from this year, scrupulously organize the construction operation and guidance for implementing the plans and thus basically settle the issue of dwelling houses for the Pyongyang citizens.

We should build 25 000 houses in the Komdok area, a leading nonferrous mineral producer where a large contingent of workers live, and thus build it into a mining city unique in the world.

It is imperative to build strong professional construction units and actively develop and produce equipment, gears and tools necessary for construction at the building machinery factories.

The report raised the tasks for further development of the building materials industry in keeping with the demand of the practical situation in which construction is progressing at an unprecedented speed.

The basic tasks facing the building materials industry during the new five-year plan period is to attain the goal of producing 8 million tons of cement and ensure self-sufficiency of the finishing materials.

It is necessary to renovate the existing cement facilities and, at the same time, build new large-capacity, up-to-date cement factories in the areas suitable for production, build up the bases for producing outdoor and other materials with locally available raw materials, raise their quality and develop the technology for producing roofing materials.

It is necessary to steadily push ahead with the preparations for producing building materials under a well-thought-out plan to construct more zero-carbon and zero-energy buildings in keeping with the world trend of architectural development, and provinces should produce various building materials in large quantities by constructing various profitable building materials production bases that rely on their locally available raw materials.

The report set forth the tasks for the communications field to make uninterrupted leaps forward and innovations in positive response to the demand of the times.

The field should step up technical updating of its infrastructure and turn mobile communications into a next-generation one as early as possible by developing the relevant technology.

It is needed to readjust the wire broadcasting and cable TV networks, put the relevant technology on a higher level and provide full conditions for constructing various profitable building materials production bases that rely on their locally available raw materials.

The report set forth the tasks for the communications field to make uninterrupted leaps forward and innovations in positive response to the demand of the times.

The field should step up technical updating of its infrastructure and turn mobile communications into a next-generation one as early as possible by developing the relevant technology.

It is needed to readjust the wire broadcasting and cable TV networks, put the relevant technology on a higher level and provide full conditions for constructing various profitable building materials production bases that rely on their locally available raw materials.
The report referred to the importance of light industry which holds an absolute share in providing the people with an affluent and civilized life, and to the direction of its development. The light industrial field should step up its renovation while regarding it as the lifeline and main direction of development to tap locally available resources for raw and other materials and recycle used materials; it should also steadily build itself up by reinforcing the weak sectors and processes and setting up missing ones.

Also stressed were the issues of raising the quality of products on the principle of giving priority to quality over quantity, and directing efforts into developing kinds of products. The report defined the fishing industry as one of the three fields directly related to the people’s diet. The fishing industry should modernize fishing vessels and implements, put fishing on a scientific basis and build up fishery stations and ship repair yards.

It is necessary to systematically increase seafood production by substantially conserving and propagating the nation’s aquatic resources in a planned way and launching a mass drive for aquaculture.

Raised in the report were important policy issues for self-reliant and multifaceted development of cities and counties. It is the consistent strategic policy our Party pursues in socialist construction to consolidate its revolutionary position and develop the rural economy and other sectors of the local economy and improve the people’s living standards with cities and counties as bases.

Cities and counties constitute terminal units for the execution of our Party’s policies, regional planning, guiding the rural economy and other sectors of the local economy, and strong pillars supporting the overall development of the country.

The general goal defined by the report to build up cities and counties is to turn every city and county into a model of a highly civilized and prosperous socialist state, into a developed region retaining their inherent characteristics.

Cities and counties should set their development strategies and long-term objectives in conformity with their regional characteristics and in a realistic way, and persistently and purposefully carry them out in a planned way and on an annual basis.

It is necessary to channel efforts into development of the socialist rural communities, holding aloft the slogan “Forward towards fresh victory” so as to achieve cultural progress peculiar to rural areas, a new development of our own style.

The long-term objective for rural construction is to eliminate disparities between the working class and the peasantry, the gaps between industry and agriculture and differences between the urban and rural areas by pushing ahead with the three revolutions in the rural areas and thoroughly implementing the theses on the socialist rural question; and the immediate task is to give precedence to the work of transforming agricultural workers on the revolutionary and working-class patterns, boost state support to the rural areas and build up the rural communities in a balanced way so that they have regional characteristics of their own.

The report stressed the need for the Party and the state to pay close attention to the effort for building up the positions of rural hard-core elements.

It regards as a consistent political requirement to develop the local economy by using the raw and other materials available in relevant areas in accordance with the regional characteristics.

It is also necessary to push ahead with the work of changing the appearances of city and county seats and put great efforts to improving urban management, afforestation, water conservation and environmental protection.

Mentioned in the report was a task for city and county Party committees and people’s committees to become a powerful engine propelling the development of their regions, master of the local economy and administrator responsible for the livelihood of the people in their regions.

Kim Jong Un solemnly clarified the revolutionary standpoint that the national defence capabilities, the cornerstone for the existence of the state and a reliable guarantee for defending the dignity and security of the country and people and peace, should be strengthened continuously.

The report analyzed the fact that although our Party and the government of our Republic made well-meaning efforts and displayed the greatest patience to prevent the aggravation of the regional tension out of sheer desire to ensure peace and security of the Korean peninsula and the rest of the world, the hostile and thoroughly irrational behavior of the American policy towards the DPRK has gone from bad to worse, instead of becoming weakened.

Nothing is more foolish and dangerous than to idle our time away without steadily building up our strength while knowing well enough that the enemy’s hi-tech weapons aimed at our state are increasing in volume.

The reality shows that only when we bolster up our national defence capabilities without a moment’s halt will we be able to contain the military threat from the US and achieve peace and prosperity of the Korean peninsula.

Stressing that the strong defence capabilities of the state never precludes diplomacy but serves as a powerful means to propel it along the right course and guarantee its success, the report gave the analytical conclusion that the reality in the prevailing situation proves once again that there can never be a guarantee in strengthening the military strength.

As long as imperialism remains on the earth and the danger of war of aggression by the hostile forces against our state remains, the historic mission of our revolutionary armed forces can never be changed and our national defence capabilities must be steadily bolstered along the track of new development.

The report set forth important tasks for the Korean People’s Army to develop more firmly into a revolutionary army modelled on the Workers’ Party of Korea, a sophisticated hi-tech army and a reliable defender of our state and people by maintaining it as the general task for the army building to model itself on Kimilsungism-Kimjongilism.

The report mentioned the core plan and strategic tasks of crucial importance in rapidly developing and strengthening the national defence industry. It is necessary to develop the nuclear technology to a higher level and make nuclear weapons smaller and lighter for more tactical uses; this will make it possible to develop tactical nuclear weapons to be used as various means according to the purposes of operational duty and targets of strategic warfare. And the production of super-sized nuclear warheads should be continuously pushed ahead. In this way we will be able to thoroughly contain, control and handle on our own initiative various military threats on the Korean peninsula, which are expressive of the iron will and determination to continuously strengthen the country’s military capabilities.

The report also set forth in the report tasks for completing the preparations for all-people resistance, the matter of crucial importance that should never be neglected in firmly consolidating the national defence capabilities.

The important tasks for strengthening the national defence capabilities put forward by the report are expressive of the iron will and determination to continuously strengthen the country’s military capabilities until the vicious cycle of the brink of war and detente, tension and dialogue is removed once and for all and each word as threat and blackmail by the hostile forces disappear on this land, considering the situation in which the international balance of power is crumbling owing to the reckless arms buildup of the US and other hostile forces.

Kim Jong Un set forth in the report tasks for fully opening an avenue for achieving prosperity by dint of self-reliance by promoting the development of science and technology.
as a crucial task and an optimum policy in socialist construction, the report comprehensively analyzed the development trend in the course of implementing the line of attaching importance to science and technology, and indicated the goals for the development of science and technology to be attained by each sector during the new five-year plan period, as well as the relevant ways and means for their achievement.

It is necessary to proactively solve urgent scientific and technical problems arising in implementing the new five-year plan for the national economic development and promote the development of core and advanced cutting-edge technology.

It is essential to establish a proper Party, state, administrative guidance and management system for the development of science and technology, share scientific research findings and vigorously push forward with the work of making all the people well versed in science and technology.

Kim Jong Un pointed out in the report the achievements, experience, mistakes and lessons learned and drawn in developing socialist culture during the period under review.

It is our Party’s far-reaching goal and ideal to lead our people to civilization of our own style in the new century by opening up a new era of efflorescence of socialist culture.

The report analyzed and assessed the performance of education, public health, art and literature, mass media and sports sectors during the period under review, which play an important role in developing all members of society into powerful beings, in invigorating the advancing revolution and in successfully stepping up socialist construction.

Earnestly reiterated in the report were the general goal of making education the one which can be fully entrusted with our future and the goals and detailed tasks for the development of education for turning our country into an educational power, a talent power, by bringing about radical improvement in education in the new century.

The sector of secondary and higher education should steadily update educational contents and in successfully stepping up socialist construction.

The report dealt with detailed plans for providing people with better medical benefits by developing our socialist healthcare into the most advantageous and advanced public health.

The public health field should substantially carry out the work of renovating the treatment and prevention institutions and pharmaceutical and medical appliances factories, build up the ranks of medical workers and create a reliable anti-epidemic basis for coping with whatever world health crisis.

The report also made a serious analysis of the work in the field of art and literature, and set forth tasks for ushering in a new era of efflorescence of Juche-oriented art and literature by effecting a radical turn on all fronts of art and literature.

Creation guidance officials, creators and artists in the field of art and literature should display an enterprising working spirit with high discernment to produce excellent works embodying the Juche character, national identity and modernity, stage characteristic performances, and purposefully carry out the training of reserves on a long-term basis by establishing a proper system and setting development strategy and clear goals.

Tasks were set forth for the mass media to raise the fire flames of a new revolution in newspapers, news services, radio and TV broadcasting and publishing as required by the new era of drastic change and upsurge in socialist construction so as to wage a vigorous media campaign aimed at deeply instilling into all the people the core of the ideas, lines and policies of the Party Congress and inspiring them to the implementation of the decisions of the Party Congress, and for the field of physical culture and sports to redouble efforts for making our country join the ranks of advanced sports nations in line with the prestige and position of our dignified state.

The innovative orientations for building socialist culture are a reflection of the grandiose plan for creating a new, Korean style of civilization by bringing about the greatest revolution and might of our style of socialist culture with the successes, experiences, mistakes and lessons gained during the period under review as a springboard for advance and leap forward.

The report put an emphasis on effecting a revolutionary change in the mental and moral life of the people by pushing ahead with the eradication of non-socialist, anti-socialist practices and thorough establishment of the socialist lifestyle throughout the country as an undertaking involving the whole Party, state and society.

All the people should create and develop a noble and civilized new life of our own style and conduct a powerful mass struggle against the practices running counter to the socialist lifestyle, deeply bearing in mind the faith in socialism and love for and trust in things of their own.

In his report, Kim Jong Un set forth tasks for further consolidating the state social system in response to the reality that witnesses a radical rise of our Republic’s position and the revolution entering a new stage.

The report underscored the need to strengthen the people-oriented nature of the state befitting the intrinsic character of our style of socialist system, realize its unified, scientific and strategic control and thoroughly establish a revolutionary spirit of law observance throughout society as required by the building of a socialist rule-of-law state, and called on judicial, procuratorial, public and state security organs to fulfill their sacred mission and responsibilities, purposefully carry out the training of reserves on a long-term basis by establishing a proper system and setting development strategy and clear goals.

Kim Jong Un, in his report, put forward the important tasks for strengthening the working people’s organizations, the links between the Party and the masses and its fringe organizations, into powerful political ones, powerful forces for building socialism.

The report stressed the need for the working people’s organizations to hold fast to their internal work in line with their duty as organizations in charge of ideological education to firmly arm all their members with the Party’s revolutionary ideas and, in particular, the need to fully prepare the youth league as a reliable successor to and reserve of the Party.

The report, which indicated the road towards dramatic progress in socialist construction, serves as a militant banner powerfully inspiring the people to a new victory in the next stage by giving full play to all the advantages and might of our style of socialism in the overall state affairs, including the building of the economy, national defence, culture and science and technology, in the prevailing situation.

3. For the Independent Reunification of the Country and Development of External Relations

In the third part of his report, Comrade Kim Jong Un mentioned the important issues for the independent reunification of the country and development of external relations.

The report studied the issues concerning south Korea in view of the demands of the prevailing situation and the changed times, and clarified our Party’s principled stand on the north-south relations.

As specified in the report, our nation is now standing on the crucial crossroads of whether to advance along the road of peace and reunification after breaking the serious deadlock in the north-south relations or to continue to suffer the pain resulting from division in the vicious cycle of confrontation and danger of war.

It is no exaggeration to say that the current inter-Korean relations have been brought back to the time before the publication of the Pannunjong Declaration and the hope for national reunification has become more distant.

Hostile military acts and anti-DPRK smear campaigns are still on the agenda and Korean nation, aggravaating the situation of the Korean peninsula and dimming the future of the inter-Korean relations.

Judging that the prevailing frozen north-south relations cannot thaw by the efforts of one side alone nor improve by themselves with the passage of time, the report stressed that if one sincerely aspires after the country’s peace and reunification and cares about the destiny of the nation and the future of posterity, one should not look on this grave situation with folded arms, but take proactive measures to redress and improve the present north-south relations facing a catastrophe.

The report clarified the principled stand on the inter-Korean relations as follows:

It is necessary to take stand and stance to re solve the basic problems first in the north-south relations, halt all acts hostile toward the other side and seriously approach and faithfully implement the north-south declarations.

The report pointed out the main reason why the north-south relations that had favorably developed in the past were frozen abruptly and brought back to those of confrontation.

The south Korean authorities are now giving the impression that they are concerned about the improvement of north-south relations by raising such inessential issues as cooperation in epidemic prevention and humanitarian field and individual tourism. They are going against the implementation of the north-south agreement on guaranteeing peace and stability on the Korean peninsula in disregard of our repeated warnings that they should stop introducing latest military hardware and conducting joint military exercises with the US.

Worse still, they are getting more frantic about modernizing their armed forces, labelling our development of various conventional weapons, which pertains entirely to our independent rights, a "provocation" with a double-dealing and biased Korean authorities continue to label our action as "provocation" with a double-dealing and biased.

It also referred to the need to frustrate the re-actionary offensive of the enemy and raise the prestige of the DPRK by enhancing the role of the external work.

The report underscored the need to put major

| 4. For the Development of Party Work |

In the fourth part of the report Kim Jong Un reviewed the successes achieved in the work for developing the Party during the period under review and set forth the tasks and ways for improving Party work as required by the times and developing reality.

The report commented it was a precious suc-cess achieved in Party work during the period under review that the unified leadership system of the Party Central Committee was firmly estab-lished in the entire Party, the fighting efficiency and leadership ability of the Party remarkably boosted and the Party's foundations readjusted and consolidated in a comprehensive and detailed way.

It noted that the WPK faithfully discharged its mission and duty regarding the people-first princi-ple and its political ideal.

When the Party's fighting efficiency and lead-ership ability are steadily enhanced, the cause of socialist construction can be led to victory with pluck all the time amid the absolute trust of the people despite any obstacles and difficulties—this is the main review and precious experience gained in Party work during the last five years.

The report set forth important tasks and ways for bringing about a radical innovation in Party work in line with the present situation, in which the Korean revolution has entered a period of new development, a period of a leap forward.

It set it as the first task to attach primary im-portance to the work of establishing the unified leadership system of the Party Central Committee and Party work during the last period under review.

As mentioned in the report, Party organizations and officials should absolutize and staunchly safe-guard the authority of the Party Central Commit-tee anytime and anywhere, and they should never tolerate or connive at even the slightest tendency to undermine the authority, but wage an uncompro-mising struggle against it.

They should consistently push forward with the efforts to defend and glorify the Party's leadership exploits, particularly give a facelift to the units as-sociated with the leadership exploits and the ones inspected by the great leaders, and ensure that they become the model units in carrying out Party policies.

Party organizations should scrupulously or-ganize the work to implement Party policies, fully grasp the progress of their implementation and thoroughly review the results, so as to fully imple-ment the policies.

The report brought it up as an important task to cement the single-hearted unity of the Party and revolutionary ranks in every way by doing the Par-ty's internal work effectively.

The report underscored the need to put major efforts on building up the ranks of the cadres, the hard core of the Party and the leading officials of the revolution, to steadily strengthen the education and control of them to prevent them from getting ideologically degenerated and to improve the quality of Party ranks by strictly adhering to Party principle, the principle of rigidly selecting those who are recognized by everyone else as its members, in increasing Party membership.

The report referred to the need to continue directing great efforts to strengthening primary Party organizations and Party cells, the basic organizations of the Party, effectively press ahead with the organization of and guidance over Party life as a main link in the whole chain of Party work and rally the broad masses of people more closely behind the Party by channelling big efforts on the work with them.

The Party’s ideological work is one of the main tasks of the Party leading the revolution and an important work, which it should not neglect even a moment in the whole period of leading the revolution and construction.

The report advanced the tasks of strictly adhering to the principle of unityary guidance in Party ideological work, of correcting the deep-seated shortcomings of the Party information sector and of fundamentally improving the form and method of ideological education work in line with the requirements of the developing reality.

It also referred to the task of strengthening Party guidance, policy-oriented guidance, over the revolution and construction and pointed to the matter of properly forming Party committees, the political General Staffs of relevant units, and enhancing the revolutionary traits of implementing them unconditionally, and the matter of resolving all the problems by the Party method, the political method, by Party organizations while strictly guarding against the practices of usurping administrative authority and tailing after the administrative workers rather than leading them in front.

The report set forth ways of radically improving Party work.

Above all, the irrational Party work system and methods should be improved in line with the requirements of the developing reality, and Party work should be switched to people-friendly and reality-friendly work true to the Party’s idea of “The people are God.”

The more thoroughly the people-friendly and reality-friendly characters are applied to Party work, the closer the whole Party will get to fact and truth, and the higher the fighting efficiency of our Party will become—these are an important idea of the report.

The report stressed once again that abuse of power, bureaucracy and corruption are what the Party must guard most strictly against and its primary target of struggle at present, and pointed to the need for Party organizations to carry on an uncompromising struggle against even an iota of them.

The report stressed that it is also a way of improving Party work to intensify criticism, ideological struggle and study in the Party, to thoroughly establish the revolutionary discipline of working according to terms of reference and to decisively enhance the level and qualifications of Party officials.

Kim Jong Un said in the last part of the report that through the report on the work of the Party Central Committee, the participants could have an in-depth understanding of successes and shortcomings in their work, their causes and lessons and the orientation and detailed ways of future struggle and that through collective discussion, they became able to confirm strategic and tactical policies based on common opinions.

He expressed his expectation that all the delegates would make an in-depth study and discussion of the issues dealt in the report, based on the leadership ideology of the Party and with a high sense of Party responsibility, and earnestly called on them to vigorously fight for a fresh leap forward and victory in socialist construction, for our great state and for our great people, rallied closely around the Party Central Committee under the uplifted banner of the great Kimilsungism-Kimjongilism.

The historic report of the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un comprehensively clarifying the important guidelines for bringing about a new upswing in overall work of the Party and revolution received full support and approval of all the participants in the congress, and augurs well for the victorious advance and bright future of our socialist cause.

36 KOREA TODAY No. 2, 2021 37
THE CONCLUDING SPEECH MADE BY General Secretary Kim Jong Un at the Eighth Congress of the WPK is as follows:

Dear delegates,

This congress, the eighth of its kind in the history of our Party, presented as its agenda items the immediate fighting plans for opening an era of a new upsurge and gigantic transformation in the revolution and construction and the important tasks in developing the Party, and made an in-depth discussion of them.

The congress first reviewed and analyzed the work of the Seventh Central Committee of the Party in a comprehensive, three-dimensional and detailed way, and made an in-depth discussion of the line and strategic and tactical problems for a new struggle.

The report, speeches and consultative meetings by sector reviewed and criticized in a detailed and severe manner the deviations and mistakes latent in all sectors, ranging from the Party, state and military affairs to the social life, and expressed a solemn determination and will to overcome them.

And an active study and discussion was made for finding the ways of hitting the goals and tasks in the new five-year plan period, and the constructive opinions raised in this course were brought to the committee for drafting the decisions of the Party congress.

Through the discussion of the first agenda item, what and how our Party, state and people must do in the future have become clearer, and our fighting strategies for a fresh victory in our revolution have become more definite.

That our Party at this congress, unlike the previous congresses, reviewed and analyzed its work from a critical viewpoint, not seeing only its merits, is of no less significance than the successes it achieved during the period under review.

The congress also reviewed the work of the Auditing Commission of the Seventh Central Committee of the Party in a critical and strict way, and adopted decisive measures for putting to rights in our own way and in line with the principles of its building the outdated ones of the past, the ones that did not suit the present reality, which were revealed in Party work and activities.

The Rules of the Workers’ Party of Korea were revised by correctly reflecting the principles of Party building and work and the demands of the developing reality, and thus an important framework has been built for strengthening the Party’s leadership abilities and fighting efficiency and achieving its sound development.

The congress has built the Eighth Central Committee of the Party with the comrades who are faithful to the Party and the revolution and highly qualified, and established a new discipline inspection system within the Party. This constitutes a drastic turning point for our Party to discharge its mission and role as the capable General Staff of the revolution.

Dear delegates,

At this congress, thanks to the great trust of all of you and other members of the entire Party, I have again been honoured with the supreme leadership of the Workers’ Party of Korea.

I feel greatly honoured that you elected me to the important position of the General Secretary of the dignified Workers’ Party of Korea, but I cannot but feel overwhelmed with gratitude and feel my heart heavy.

Fully aware of the sacred mission that I am representing and in charge of the great Kimilsungist-Kimjongilist party, I solemnly pledge that I will make every effort to implement the fighting programmes put forth by the Party congress and, regarding our great people as the god of my life, work at the risk of my life as a faithful servant of the people on the road of devoted service for them.

The Eighth Central Committee of the Party, elected by the unanimous approval and support of all of you, dear delegates, will demonstrate its correct and seasoned leadership abilities to achieve a fresh victory in the building of our style of socialism and faithfully perform the duty the times have entrusted upon it, true to the high expectations and trust of all the organizations of the Party and its members.

Dear delegates,

The current external environment of our revolution is still grim and acute, and our revolutionary work will not be all plain sailing in the future as well.

But now there cannot be hardships insurmountable for our Party and people who have achieved great victories, which others would not dare achieve, in the worst conditions and difficulties.

With fresh confidence and courage, we must quickly take the road of sustainable advance and development by vigorously waging the struggle for consolidating the strength of our Party, revolutionary ranks and state in every way possible.

Achieving a great fresh victory on all fronts by remarkably increasing our own strength, our internal force, in socialist construction – this is the main idea and main spirit of the Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea.

In other words, it is the revolutionary will of the Workers’ Party of Korea reaffirmed at this congress that we must readjust and rearrange our internal force in a comprehensive way and, on the basis of this, make a frontal attack against all hardships to open up a road of new advance.

The historic heavy tasks facing our revolution require the entire Party to cherish the ideals of “The people are God,” single-hearted unity and self-reliance deeply in mind once again and adhere more strictly to them.

Whereas the ideal of “The people are God” reflects our Party’s consistent demand that the entire Party must hold fast to the revolutionary Party trait of regarding it as the starting point and absolute and invariable principle of its building and activities to serve the people, the ideals of single-hearted unity and self-reliance embody in a concentrated way the ideological and theoretical viewpoint and political requirements concerning the lifeline and motive force of our revolution.

The ideals of “The people are God,” single-hearted unity and self-reliance—herein lie the fundamental key to enhancing the leadership abilities of our Party, the fundamental method for it to strike its roots deeper among the masses and the fundamental and sole guarantee for us to survive and open up our way ahead.

I would like to suggest substituting cherishing our Party’s three ennobling ideals of “The people are God,” single-hearted unity and self-reliance deeply in mind once again as the slogan of the Eighth Party Congress for putting up a high-sounding slogan.

The entire Party must make a historic, courteous advance in the direction indicated by the Party congress with unexcelled preparedness, self-confidence and enthusiasm for setting out on a new journey.

Above all, we should launch a do-or-die struggle to implement without fail the new five-year plan for the national economic development.

The socialist economic construction is the most important revolutionary task on which we should focus our all-out effort at present.

In order to break through the current difficulties facing us, stabilize and improve the people’s living standards as early as possible and provide a firm guarantee for self-prosperity, we must resolve the economic problems, the knottiest problems, as soon as possible.

First of all, we should fix the right direction for major thrust on the economic front and concentrate our efforts on it.

The central task of the new five-year plan for the national economic development is to substantially promote economic revitalization by holding fast to the metal and chemical industries as the main link in the whole chain of the economic development and consolidating theorganic ties among the key industries, and improve the people’s living standards onto a new, higher level by enhancing the material and technical foundations of agriculture and increasing the proportion of domestically available materials in light industry.

We must follow the road of focusing our efforts on definitely putting the metal and chemical industries first back onto their normal track, the track of revitalization, and, based on it, shoring up other sectors all together.

We must efficiently organize nationwide economic work on the principle of giving priority to the development of the metal and chemical industries.

It is important to intensify economic operations and guidance in such a way as to make the most rational use of the national economic capabilities for radically increasing the capacity of steel and chemicals production, instead of dispersing them here and there without any calculation.

We must orient all economic work towards achieving balanced stability and improvement of the people’s living standards.

What is important here is to continue to direct efforts to agricultural production and thus solve the food problem of the people in the main.

During the new five-year plan period, the agricultural sector must rise up with redoubled efforts and the state must increase its investment in it, so as to attain the target of grain production without fail.

In particular, in the coming two to three years, the plan for compulsory procurement by the state must be set on the level similar to that in 2019 and implemented without fail and the amount to be procured must be increased in a prospective way, so as to make it possible to put the grain supply to the people on a regular basis.

During the new five-year plan period, the light-industry sector must increase the output of consumer goods by regarding it as the main link to obtain raw and other materials domestically and recycle wastes, and thereby bring about a fresh advance in the effort for improving the people’s living standards.

The state should take strong economic and technical measures so that all the sectors supplying the light-industry sector with raw and other materials can normalize their production.

Next, all sectors and units must identify their concrete tasks and ways for executing the new five-year plan for the national economic development, and implement them without fail.

By drawing on the lessons we learned during the period under review, the Party congress made an objective and strict examination of this plan and set new feasible fighting tasks by bringing them to the realities as close as possible.

It is very important that all sectors and units first set out well-worked-out plans by stage and by year while foreseeing the conditions and environments that can be created in the future.

Once their plans are set out, the relevant units must execute them without fail by conducting scientific and concrete operations and command, and the state must establish rigid discipline of strictly grasping, propelling and reviewing the implementation of the national economic plan in all indices.

The success or failure of the new five-year plan for the national economic development depends on how economic management is improved.

The economic departments of the Party Central Committee, the Cabinet, the State Planning Commission, factories, enterprises and all other sectors must work in concert to take decisive measures for improving economic management.

We must push forward energetically with the research and perfection of the economic management methods, which are both suited to our specific situation and geared to optimization and best effectiveness, for example, by combining the methods, which have been developed and introduced on a trial basis, and the experiences of the units, which are effective in their business and enterprise management.

During the new five-year plan period, the Party and state must direct their effort to restoring and strengthening the system and order by which the economy runs under the unified guidance and management of the state.

Strict sanctions must be imposed on whatever the units concerned if they hamper the unified guidance of the state, claiming their special importance even after this Party congress.

The Cabinet and the State Planning Commission must intensify organization and guidance of economic work so that sectors, factories and enterprises achieve full ties and cooperation in production with a view to strengthening the independence of the national economy and increasing production.

Science and technology must fully guarantee economic construction and improvement of the people’s standard of living with its practical development.

Science and technology is the engine of socialist construction and major driving force for the national economic development.

The sector of science and technology must set as its targets the high-priority tasks and other research projects aimed at accomplishing the new five-year plan for the national economic development, and concentrate its efforts on implementing them.

During the new five-year plan period, we must raise the level of the country’s science and technology to a higher level and strengthen the creative cooperation among scientists, technicians and producers so as to solve one by one the tech problems arising in economic construction and improving the people’s standard of living.

We must lay the foundations for developing the local economy and improving the local people’s living standards by promoting the independent and diversified development of the cities and counties.

Now the living standards of the people in the local cities and counties including the rural communities are very low and backward.

We intend to pay attention from now on to developing the local economy and improving the local...
people’s standard of living.

The state must press ahead with the work of providing 10,000 tons of cement to every local city and county on an annual basis.

While taking favourable measures for the local cities and counties to have reliable economic foundations of their own and develop in conformity with their own characteristics, state economic guidance organs must provide them with accurate guidance and assistance.

We must vigorously step up the three revolutions—ideological, technological and cultural—in the rural communities and increase state support so as to decisively strengthen our rural position, consolidate the material and technical foundations of agricultural production and transform the socialist countryside into a civilized and rich one.

During the new five-year plan period, nationwide efforts must be directed to developing education and public health, so that the whole people, whether they live in the capital city or local areas, can enjoy tangible benefits of the socialist educational and public health systems.

We must give precedence to vigorous education and strict discipline in the entire Party and the whole country and amongst all the people, so as to staunchly suppress and control all forms of anti-socialist, non-socialist practices revealed in all fields of social life and all sorts of criminal acts such as the abuse of power, bureaucracy, corruption and imposition of extra economic burdens on the people.

We must regard it as an important task to further strengthen the national defence capability both in quality and quantity.

We must further strengthen the nuclear war deterrent while doing our best to build up the most powerful military strength.

We must continue to give a fresh spur to making the People’s Army elite and powerful armed forces, so that it is thoroughly prepared to fulfil its mission and role as the driving force of national defence in the face of any form of threat and emergency.

We must raise the defence science and technology to a higher level and carry out the goals and tasks of munitions production without fail, so as to guarantee the historic onward march of our Party with the strongest military strength during the new five-year plan period.

In order to successfully carry out our responsible and important revolutionary tasks facing us today, we must, first of all, strengthen the Party and enhance its leadership role.

A great heyday of the development of the Party and the revolution will be ushered in when the organizations of the whole Party are built up into loyal vanguard ranks, work in a revolutionary and enterprising manner and satisfactorily perform their role as the political general staff of the relevant units.

By directing their main efforts to their internal work, all Party organizations must put the ranks of their cadres and members on a streamlined basis and develop them into an elite force and intensify the guidance over Party life more than ever before, thereby steadily building up the organizational and ideological foundations of the Party.

We must establish a well-knit system and fresh method of Party work throughout the Party so as to make it a fighting party, a fighting party, a military party.

Party organizations must brace themselves to launch organizational and political work in a brave, high-spirited manner to carry out the new line of struggle and strategic and tactical policies, and properly play the role of helmsman in their relevant units’ work.

They must eliminate such tendencies as taking administrative affairs upon themselves as they are engrossed only in economic work, and regard it as an iron rule to resolve all problems arising in the revolution and construction strictly in a Party-oriented, political way of giving full play to the spiritual strength of Party members and other working people.

In particular, the Organizational Leadership Department, Information and Publicity Department and other departments of the Party Central Committee should intensify Party-oriented, political leadership meticulously and offensively to implement the decisions of the Party congress.

Officials, the commanding personnel of the revolution, must fully discharge their responsibilities and duties in the vanguard of the advancing ranks. Their abilities and role decide the destiny of their units and sectors.

The manifold difficulties and trials facing our revolution at present and the great cause of building a powerful socialist country assigned to our generation demand that officials shoulder all the burdens and display extraordinary working ability, enthusiasm and devotion.

This is the very time which badly needs those officials who make painstaking efforts to reduce, even a bit, the concerns and worries of the Party and state, know nothing but the revolution and work and strive to do something for the good of the people, and expedite any tasks.

All officials, with a determination to prove their fidelity to the Party, revolution and people with their working ability and results in practice, must make completely new arrangements from the start of the grand journey after the Party congress.

Always remembering the expectations of the people, they must make redoubled efforts so that they can review their everyday result with pride and conscience.

They must learn with open mind what they do not know, improve their insufficient ability even burning the midnight oil and make increasingly exacting demand on themselves without allowing complacency and inertia, and thus bring about a drastic improvement in their fighting spirit and working style.

All the Party members must play the core, pace-setter role in the effort for implementing the tasks set forth by the Party congress.

If they turn out with redoubled efforts to brave today’s hardship in the vanguard, there is no difficulty we cannot surmount nor fortress we cannot seize.

All Party members must play their part in the most difficult and labour-consuming work sites by carrying forward the soul and spirit of the preceding generations who won a great victory in the Fatherland Liberation War with indomitable spirit and heroic struggle and successfully carried out postwar rehabilitation in a short span of time, even tightening their belts.

The heaviest and the duties entrusted to the newly elected members of the central leadership body of the Party and all the delegates here in carrying out with credit the sacred fighting goals and tasks set forth by the Eighth Party Congress.

The newly elected members of the Eighth Party Central Committee must remember the precious trust and expectations of Party members and other people at all times and at all places, and produce substantial results of their work by displaying a high sense of responsibility and devotion in the struggle for implementing the tasks set forth by the Party congress.

All the delegates must throw themselves heart and soul into and stubbornly struggle for making sure that the tasks set by the Party congress, which they personally discussed and decided on, are carried out without fail at their posts and workplaces.

The delegates, who know better than anyone else about the urgent requirements of the Party and the revolution, must deeply implant the idea and spirit of the Party congress in the hearts of the masses and arouse them by setting personal examples, so as to bring about a remarkable development in the work of their sectors and units.

Dear delegates,

We must be prepared to wage a more arduous frontal attack in order to achieve a fresh victory and brilliant advance of our socialist cause.

The hostile forces will try to check our advance more frantically, and the world will watch how the political declaration and fighting programme of our Party are realized.

As long as there are the burning loyalty and invincible might of the single-hearted unity of all Party members and other people and service personnel who support the ideas and decisions of our Party with their consistent actions and practices, we are sure to emerge victorious.

Let us all fight on more vigorously for the brilliant fulfilment of the fighting programme put forward by the Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea, for the development of the glorious WPK, for the victorious advance of the revolutionary cause of Juche, and for our great people. ❖

80-day Campaign Spotlights Eighth WPK Congress

The 80th MEETING OF the Political Bureau of the Seventh WPK Central Committee held in early October last year adopted a decision on wag- ing an 80-day campaign in order to achieve things great enough to glorify the Eighth Congress of the Workers’ Party of Korea which would mark a historic turning point in the Korean rev- olution.

Thanks to the high revolu- tionary enthusiasm of all the people who rose up single-mindedly in response to the appeal of the Party Central Committee, the historic 80-day campaign from mid-October to late December last year was concluded with vic- tory. The Party Central Commit- tee sent a letter to all the Party members numbering millions, which aroused high enthusiasm across the country.

All regions, sectors and units had assemblies including army- civilian joint rallies to pledge to celebrate the Eighth Party Con- gress with fine achievements. Prevention of COVID-19 was defined as the main thrust of the 80-day campaign. A more offen- sive struggle was waged to check the infiltration of the virulent virus-caused infectious diseases which was turning more and more serious with each passing day. A forceful publicity and in- formation drive took place to en- courage all the people to keep a high level of voluntary unanimity and devotion in the effort for pandemic prevention. The peo- ple played the role of the main agency in the struggle for pre- vention of the world pandemic, heating the public atmosphere of hard work to keep their state, themselves and their children far from the danger of the disease.

The intensity of blockade and other preventive actions against COVID-19 increased following the 18th Plenary meeting of the Political Bureau of the Seventh WPK Central Committee held in November last year. Consider- ing the ever-worsening health crisis around the world with the advent of winter, the country restored the top-class emer- gency measures which had been employed in the earlier days of the emergency, and an all-out effort was made for their uncon- ditional observation. Proactive endeavours were undertaken to establish a disinfection system of the Korean style including the effort to develop and introduce accurate and effective sterilizing methods.

The campaign for redress- ing the natural calamities as soon as possible was the front on which the Workers’ Party of Korea made an all-out effort. The Party Central Committee organized divisions of the Party members from the capital city of Pyongyang and dispatched them to North and South Hamgyong Provinces. The 12 000-odd mem- bers of the Party launched a hard- worked round-the-clock strug- gle, thus erecting fine villages with the standard of socialist rural construction in the afflicted areas—South Hamgyong Province’s counties of Hongwon, Riwon and Hichon and North Hamgyong Province’s Kim Chaek City and Orang County—and carried out other enormous reconstruction pro- jects successfully in a short time.

The Korean People’s Army personnel completely changed Taecheong-ri, Unpha County of North Hwanghae Province, and severely damaged Kimwla County of Kangwon Province, Komdok area of South Ham- gyong Province and other places. Fine villages mushroomed in suitable places across the country including Kangwon Province’s Chollwon, Pyonggang, Sariang- do, Ichon, Hoeryong, Hungyang and Kumgang counties, and North Hamgyong Province’s Hoeryong City and Musan, On- song, Kyounghung and Kyoungwon counties, letting all the flood vic- tims across the country move into new homes.

The electric power, metallur- gical, rail transport and forestry sectors finished their disaster relief tasks in a short period of time, including the reconstruc- tion of flood- and typhoon-hit dams, railways and iron bridges. And agriculture, forestry, environ- ment protection, urban man- agement and other sectors of the national economy also success- fully completed the reconstruc- tion of hundreds of bridges, a thousand and hundreds of bro- ken road sections, many parts of irrigation waterways and struc- tures and river improvement projects.

New remarkable achieve- ments were registered in all sec- tors of the national economy.

The agricultural sector fin- ished the hard agricultural jobs throughout the country in the right time, producing a hun- dred and scores of high-yielding farms.

The workers of the general tideland reclamation prov- inces of North Phyongan and South Hwanghae provinces re- claimed large acreages of tid- land equivalent to the farmland of a county. The Myonggan Chemical Factory, the Chungjin Chemical Fibre Factory and the Hungsan Mine carried out their capacity expan- sion projects. The con- struction of Kumyangsan Power Station No. 2 was completed, and the Munak Power Station, Munchon Army-People Power Station and Kowon Taechung Power Station were inaugurated or went into operation while ef- forts were directed to making ef- fective use of existing power- er resources across the country to ease the power shortage.

The successful completion of the 80-day campaign is the fruition of the leadership of the Workers’ Party of Korea that ushers in a new period of up- surge of the revolution while surmounting all difficulties by believing in the people and en- list their inexhaustible re- sources; it clearly shows the be- rate fighting spirit of the Korean people who bring earlier the dawn of a future by launching a dynamic and revolutionary march whenever the Workers’ Party of Korea decides to hold a congress.

We Won with Songs

Defence we sang, and the soldiers joined us in a chorus to shake the height with such cheers as they had made in their charges.

Our performance was followed by a singing and dancing party of the soldiers, who, playing guitars, flutes and other instruments they had made themselves, sang and danced merrily. Their optimistic images inspired us to have the conviction that we were almost fighting a victorious war.

Later that day there were several battles on a nameless height near Height 1211. The soldiers ran out of ammunition except for some grenades.

Towards the sunset the enemy troops began to climb the height. The People's Army men and tanks had made in their charges. Even the wounded who were staying in a nearby dugout turned out into the battle singing the song. Shocked by the powerful sounds of singing, the enemy troops were at a loss what to do. Our fighters threw out grenades and launched a deadly counterattack.

The frontline music turned out to be so much encouraging. In this way our People's Army soldiers had fulfilled their mission as the army of the people on the forefront of defending socialism by displaying their revolutionary optimism and militant spirit, whenever the country was in a hard time.

I believe our coming generations will advance unflinchingly for successful building of a powerful socialist country while singing revolutionary songs—just like their older generations did.

I Sing in Praise of the Party

ONE OF THE FAVOURITE songs of the Korean people is I Sing in Praise of the Party which was created in 2010.

This song in my heart
As the pearl lying deep in the sea.
You're the loving sky
That has given me
The star I yearn after
And trust with my life.
The Party, the dearest bosom
I'm nestling in, is my destiny.
You've given the highest glory
And praise in your life.
I sing in praise of you.

Since its foundation the Workers' Party of Korea has never been apart from the people, and advanced the revolution while regarding them as God. To the Korean people the WPK is the saviour of their destiny and the reliance of their mind. The course of the revolution and construction they have followed has not been smooth—there have been hard conditions. The sacrifices and ordeals. But they have overcome all those things as they kept in mind the Party's love for and trust in them like blood vessels.

In the annals of the revolution the Party, the dearest bosom, always has been the source of the people's confidence and policies set forth by the Party have always been based on the people. In the universal free medical care system can be cited which was enforced during the Liberation War in the 1950s.

In November 1952 the Cabinet decision “On Enforcing Free Medical Care” was made public. According to it universal free medical care was put into effect from January 1, 1953. Since then the system has been in force invariably, protecting and promoting the health of the people and children reliably. At that time the country was hardly in a position to enforce free medical care at state expense. As everything was burned to ashes due to shelling and bombing, the state had to invest a lot of fund in the health sector and provide all relevant conditions. With such hard conditions it took measures to rehabilitate the destroyed and burnt hospitals and clinics, and produce necessary medical appliances and materials. And the medical education institutions accelerated the work to train reserve medical workers.

Other state measures were taken to exempt the impotent at state-run medical institutions from the doctor's fee and the charge for medicines, and objects of social insurance, welfare recipients, the dependent family members of those working for state organs and cooperative and social organizations, war sufferers and special patients from the charge for medicines. Consequently, the number of beds at hospitals increased two times more than before the outbreak of the war, and the number of medical institutions exceeded that of before the war.

In all other popular policies such as the universal compulsory free education and important measures taken for the people they have been the demonstration of the WPK's people-first principle.

The reality enabled the Korean people to have the conviction that the WPK is a great mother party which subordinates all affairs of the revolution and construction to the promotion of the wellbeing of the people. So, whether they were happy or sad, the Korean people would turn to the career of the Party, and share their destiny with it.

In recent years the country has been in a hard condition as never before, but the level of civilization the Korean people enjoy has risen. Mindbroad notes, Haebaregi school things and Sonamu satchels are supplied to children equally. And monumental streets such as Kyo- myong, Mapo-dong, and the rest have appeared. And various bywords symbolizing new civilization have come into existence in succeeding, including zeal for horse riding, zeal for skiing and hot spring culture.

Last year the Korean people had to undergo trials owing to the consecutive natural calamities, like those by floods and typhoons, and the worldwide health crisis. The WPK, however, firmly defended the destiny and future of the people in the country with ardent love for and devotion to them. Party meetings were held one after another to discuss and decide matters of crucial importance for the safety and happiness of the people, and the state mobilized and concentrated all its human, material and technical potentialities on the rehabilitation campaign. Thus, new dwelling houses mushroomed in a short span of time.

Today the WPK is pushing ahead with the building of a socialist power, absolutely believing in the strength of the people, without the help of anyone else. The Party's trust in the people makes them display their ardent zeal. Convinced that their future is rosy as they have the Great Party, the people are invariably singing the song.

Your red flag has brought up Your sons and daughters as heroes.
Your shower waters have rained down as heroes.
As the flag reminds me of Your mother's skirt, I sing of your glory, as a lamp in my throat.
The Party, the dearest bosom I'm nestling in, is my destiny.
You've given the highest glory to my life.
I sing in praise of you.
